FOREWORD

The memories of the year gone by will fade into the fog of the past. I hope that this Glahisean will help many of those memories to return. I also hope this book will not fade into the past after only a brief glance. To my associate editor and staff, I can only say "thank you," for without you this edition would not have been possible. We have done our best and now can only sit back and hope that our efforts have been successful.

To a Wonderful Person:

From the time when we were freshmen first entering high school until now, when we stand on the threshold of graduation, one person will always stand out in our minds. This wonderful person is you, Mr. Como. We can look back upon the years when you were our World Culture's teacher. How many times we were bored and tired with school, but you gave us the help and assurance that we needed to set us right. You've worked so hard during our four years at GHS and have gone far. Through your help, we have attained the goal we are striving for, also. Standing in the background when honors came, YOU would let us take the bows. It is time now for us to tell you that we are grateful.

In dedicating our yearbook we want to say, "Thank you, Mr. Como!"

This was the year we were all waiting for — our Senior Year! The publication of the yearbook was the one big project. We worked so hard during our junior year selling magazines, Easter candy, Christmas candy, on and on and on, that we didn't need to worry too much this year. We did sell cards and wrappings at Christmas time. Our annual dance was a highlight. Handing out pictures, name cards, filling in applications, being interviewed, taking college boards, visiting colleges, hospitals, offices — yes, our Senior year was a busy one and a very happy one.

Our Honor Students are those who have maintained at least a "B" average during their first three years of high school. In addition to those pictured here, Judy Reed and Chuck Galley are also Honor Students. A glance at the Activity pages will reveal that these twenty seniors are very active in our extra-curricular program. Almost all of the group plan to continue their education after graduation.

THE JUNIOR CLASS

This year's Junior Class showed a great deal of ingenuity and sparkle. Under the direction of Miss Rita Mae Kohut, their program was a full one. One of the brightest memories they will hold is that of Homecoming when they won the first prize in the float parade for their conception of a Chariot and Gladiator.

Juniors were busy during the pre-Christmas and pre-Easter seasons selling candy to help finance the Junior-Senior Prom. Since the senior class had decided on the design for a standard class ring, this year's class went a step further and decided the stone should be standard also. An onyx stone was the popular choice.

Vice President — Rich Katchmark, Secretary — Sandy Como, President — Angie Como, Treasurer — Gerry Spanbauer.

Under the capable leadership of the president, Angie Como, and with the assistance of the faculty sponsor, Mr. Eugene Urbanski, the Student Council accomplished many things during 1961-62. A book store was opened and staffed by Student Council representatives. The annual Christmas gifts for the needy was very successful with almost 100% participation by the student body. The Council endeavored to make the Hall Monitor system for effective. All in all, we can look back on the past year with much pride.

The Future Teachers of America is Glassport High's newest club. They managed to get organized this year, but were unable to do too much. We are hoping this will be one of our strongest organizations. Its purpose is to encourage students to enter the teaching field.

The Social Studies Club is composed of most of the Senior P.O.D. class. A Fashion Show is held annually to pay for the club's trip to Washington, D.C.

PRACTICE SESSIONS

M A J O R E T T E S

A familiar sight at all football games are our majorettes. These young ladies spend many long hours during summer vacation developing and practicing new routines. In the spring eager aspirants are easily recognized by the "sign of the trade" — a baton.

CHEERLEADERS

"Fight, Team, Fight" — with these words ringing in their ears it is little wonder our team did so well this past year. Much of the student spirit was due to the enthusiastic example of our cheer leaders. Their exuberance was contagious. We shall miss Sandy, Gretchen, and Donna; but we know the rest of the "crew" will carry on and help the student body show they really have school spirit.

HOMEcoming

The Homecoming celebration in November, 1961, was the first in the history of Glassport High School. A large parade featuring many colorful floats, entered by various school organizations, launched the festivities. Prizes for the best floats went to the junior class, the senior class, and the G.A.A. The junior class had two entries: an old car surrounded by juniors in the dress of the twenties and a chariot drawn by "slaves" and driven by a Gladiator.

The football team contributed to the happy atmosphere by downing the Steelers of Homestead and thus winning the Alle-Mon Conference Trophy.

At half-time Helen Rapp was crowned "Queen of Homecoming." Her Royal Court included Diana Molinari, Sandy MacDonald, Adele Gibilisco, and Nancie Stegman.

HAIL TO QUEEN HELEN!

Helen Rapp, Glassport's first Homecoming Queen, was the popular choice of the Student Body. Helen has been a major-ette for the past two years. She is the secretary of the Senior Class. The Glahisean staff is justly proud of Helen because she is our chief typist. Many Good Wishes!

Below: Student Council President Angie Como is bearing the crown across the football field to crown the unknown queen.

The Candidates for Queen and their escorts: Adele Gibilisco and Elmer Kiraley, Sandy MacDonald and Carl Masch, Diana Molinari and Tom Petros, Helen Rapp and Dan Pasinski, Nancie Stegman and Tom Saire.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

There are so many people we wish to thank for helping us publish our yearbook. We appreciate the cooperation of the faculty and administration. Without the financial assistance of the subscribers, advertisers, and patrons the publication would have been impossible. We especially wish to thank Mr. Sam Buchman of Buchman-Birch Studios and Mr. Peter Neft of the American Yearbook Company. Without the understanding assistance of these gentlemen our task would have been much greater. Again, many, many thanks to all who made the 1962 Glahisean a reality.
